

Rising Stars

The youth population will continue to become more diverse. Influence of youth coming from various geographical areas and ethnic backgrounds will continue to create changes. Recent national trends that include increased violence and lower GPA scores along with other negative behaviors could escalate and continue to affect youth, teachers, families, and society.

Aspire Advantage Rising Stars process helps youth develop their ability to make positive life choices based upon living their families' values and a vision of a successful future. It helps students improve in academics, improve their attitude, positively participate in their community, and believe their dreams can become a reality.

Aspire offers a comprehensive and proven program that uncovers potential and supports the development of youth leadership. Leaders combine creative abilities with practical skills and knowledge that allows them to identify their goals and action steps to achieve improved performance. A leader seizes potential opportunities and gets inspired results for individuals and communities by making all those around them perform better. A leader draws their map for the future. The capacity for leadership resides in all of us. Leaders are made, not born.
